Dear

Joining HETSA: Subscription to History of Economics Review 2019

Our records show that your subscription to History of Economics Review has now expired. We hope very much that you will renew your subscription to History of Economics Review (and membership of History of Economic Thought Society of Australia) for 2017. You will have noticed that Taylor and Francis is now doing the printing publishing and distribution. They charge us $45 per individual member so that places stress on HETSA to gather revenue from its membership to pay this cost. I hope you will help this scholarly society.

The journal has issues in hard copy but payment for that option has gone up a little to cover mailing costs. If you wish to pay by cheques please remit the attached form if possible.

Please make the cheque out to HETSA. Alternatively you can email me your credit card details and expiry date. It is fairly safe. Another way of payment is BY bank transfer. This is costless. The HETSA bank account and BSB number is as follows.

BSB 067 102

Acc No 1015 9913

SWIFT Code CTBAAU2S

Subscription Structure 2019

Individuals

Hard copy $60

Online $60

This will be the only reminder notice, so please act now. Email me if there are any problems with your subscription or indeed receiving issues of the journal.

Best wishes
